Understanding the Requirements of ISO/IEC 17025:2017 for Laboratory Management Systems

Course Duration: 2 Days

Seminar Content

This two-day seminar serves as an overview, and upgrade, of the new ISO/IEC 17025:2017 International Standard, which is the recognized international requirements for the competence of testing and calibration laboratories. The technical requirements for laboratories are enhanced by the use of a management system that incorporates the requirements of ISO 9001:2015.

The acceptance of testing and calibration results between countries and industries should be facilitated if laboratories want to comply with this International Standard. The use of this standard will facilitate cooperation between laboratories and other bodies and assist in the exchange of information and experience, standards and procedures.

Learning Objectives

- ❖ Present requirements for a competent and compliant calibration/test laboratory.
- ❖ Compile examples of documentation required for demonstrating compliance system.
- ❖ Understand basics for implementing a sound laboratory system from quality, calibration, and test perspectives.
